Other Items of Interest in Railway Circles.

The contract for the new Santa Fe shop building will be let Monday. The houses occupying the site at the corner of Branner and Crane streets are being moved today and the excavation work will begin in a few days. The plans for the new building have been completed and an accurate picture of the building is published for the first shortage, is an evidence that the business conditions are getting back in the former prosperous channels. While the crops were not up to 100 per cent in all sections of the country, yet they are great enough to produce a heavy traffic and to stimulate business in general. There is no overproduction in any line of agricultural products, and as manufacturing interests have resumed with their old-time vigor, conditions look encouraging for the transportation systems of the country. It is the general impression that all commercial interests will enjoy an unusually prosperous year in 1910.—Railway Review.

FOX AS AN ENGINEER.

How the General Superintendent Solved the 8-Hour Law Problem.

"The policy of the Santa Fe is to advance its men whenever there is an opening," said a company employee this morning. "The secret is that every man in a position of trust has been proven and found to be efficient, and that it is a safe proposition to give him something better. This is especially the case in the operating department where it is the rule that every official in the business grows from the ground up. Take a little incident that occurred recently. General Superintendent Fox, his secretary, and Assistant Superintendent McNally were on the line with a special and at some point ran against the 8-hour law. The crew couldn't turn another wheel—had to take hands off right there—

RIGHTLY NAMED.

Had Many High Ideals and Has Lived Up to Them.

NEVER HAD A SALOON

SYRACUSE A DAIRY CENTER.

One Woman Has Marketed Nearly $1,000 Worth of Butter.

Syracuse, Kan., Nov. 3.—Heretofore Hamilton county has not made much reputation for dairy products, but during the last two years Syracuse has advanced remarkably as a dairy center, supporting two cream stations outside of the local establishments. As an example of what is being done in butter making we might mention Mrs. C. Moore's dairy. She has a fine herd of cows, and her butter is of excellent quality every week and is right now receiving 30 cents per pound for all of about forty pounds per week.

During three years ending August 1, 1909, Mrs. Moore has made and sold a total of 3,945 pounds by actual count a record being kept each week. This amounts to $386.25 actual value received in exchange and cash, never taking less than 25 cents per pound and usually unable to supply the demand for her product.

An average of from eleven to sixteen cows were milked, and with the exception of fall and winter, during which time some grass was fed, they subsisted on the native buffalo and grama grasses. To gather the cream fresh and sweet a separator is used and during the summer ice is used to keep the butter cool. Absolute cleanliness is maintained, and the butter is pressed into sixteen ounce bricks, creamery size and shape, and the name "Yonah's" has become a guarantee for first class butter throughout Syracuse and vicinity.

THE DIFFERENCE

Coffee Usually Means Sickness But Postum Always Means Health.

Those who have never tried the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place and in this way regaining health and happiness can learn much from the experience of others who have made the trial.

One who knows says: "I drank coffee for breakfast every morning until I had terrible attacks of indigestion producing days of discomfort and nights of sleeplessness. I tried to give up the use of coffee entirely but found it hard to go from hot coffee to a glass of water. Then I tried Postum.

"It was good and the effect was so pleasant that I soon learned to love it and have used it for several years. I improved immediately after I left off coffee and took on Postum and am now entirely cured of my indigestion and other troubles all of which were due to coffee. I am now well and contented and all because I changed from coffee to Postum.

"Postum is much easier to make right every time than coffee for it is so even and always reliable. We never have a headache or indigestion. We use Postum and are always well."

"There's a reason" and it is proved by trial.

MEDICAL BOARD WINS CASE.

D. J. Smith of Athol Fined for Practicing Without License.

Smith Center, Kan., Nov. 3.—Dr. H. A. Dykes, president of the state board of medical registration and examination, caused the arrest of D. J. Smith of Athol for attempting to treat the sick without a license. He was taken before Justice Watson of Smith Center and entered a plea of guilty and promised to quit, whereupon the justices imposed the minimum fine of $50 and costs for one count.

Mr. Smith has been located in Athol for the past two years and indicated to the public that he was authorized to treat the sick, by opening an office, making calls to see patients, and even offering a reward of one hundred dollars for any case of appendicitis that he could not cure without the use of a knife.

This county is the home of President Dykes of the board and he says that the medical law will be enforced the same as any other law, as long as he is president.

There are several of the so-called magnetic healers in this county who do not hold a license to treat the sick and the county attorney says that their arrest will follow if they continue in the business.

time in the Santa Fe Journal today. The new Santa Fe shop office building will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is thought that before the building is completed it will cost considerably more than this. It is to be a four story structure, built of brick and cement blocks and will be 72 feet wide and 139 feet long.

When the new building is completed all the office departments of the motive power and mechanical departments will be in the same building. The basement of the new office structure will be occupied mostly by the mechanical department. This is a very important department and has jurisdiction over the entire system including the gulf and the coast lines. The testing forces will also occupy a portion of the basement.

The first floor will be occupied by John Purcell, superintendent of the shops, the superintendent of the mechanical department, the telegraph department, and the bonus supervisors of the division and the local shops.

On the second floor will be the suites of the assistant superintendent of motive power, the mechanical engineering department, and the checks and office forces of each. The third floor will contain the offices of the superintendent of motive power, the electrician, the electrical engineer, general airbrake instructor, general boiler inspector, and the blue print room.

The new building will be modern in every detail. Two passenger elevators, large lavatories, and washroom, and all the modern conveniences. The building will be set back 25 feet from the street to make room for a pretty lawn and cement walks and driveways.

SANTA FE RUMOR REVIVED.

May Run From Chanute to Joplin Over Kansas City Southern.

The rumor that the Santa Fe will extend from Chanute to Joplin at once by using the tracks of the Kansas City Southern between Pittsburg and Joplin has been revived. The recent trip of General Manager Hurley over the line was the probable inspiration. The Santa Fe has two ways of reaching Joplin from Pittsburg; it can make a traffic arrangement with the Frisco or the Southern, or it can build a line of its own. It is understood that the Southern has offered to sell to the Santa Fe the right to use its line.

Superintendent J. L. Barnes of the Southern Kansas says that no word indicating any immediate action has been received at his office.

SIMPSON IS O. K.

Internal Revenue Collector Names Charles Howard Chief Assistant.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 3.—With the approach of the close of the investigation of the internal revenue office for the district of Kansas and Oklahoma, J. M. Simpson, collector, said that the investigators had found his accounts straight.

"The books have been thoroughly audited by the inspectors from the treasury department and my accounts have been pronounced correct," said Simpson.

Simpson has announced that he will appoint Charles Howard to succeed C. L. Danner as his chief assistant. Danner was asked to resign during the investigation last week because he had failed to demand immediate payments for liquor licenses. Howard has been field deputy of the revenue office in Oklahoma for sixteen years.

Jewell City Is Growing Rapidly.

In public building enterprises Jewell City this year has outstripped any year in her history. The improvements will aggregate about $150,000. Among the public enterprises there is her new school house at a cost of not less than $30,000, the First National bank block, $17,500; the Citizens' State bank, costing $15,000; Odd Fellows building, $8,000; addition to the Methodist church, $2,500; enlargement and other improvements of the Kelsey hotel, $2,000; electric theater, $1,500, besides fully $15,000 has been invested in new residences. Most of the walks have been put down, and the work continues. It has been a year of great prosperity, and every improvement has been a necessity.

In the midst of all this prosperity the two Jewell City banks have made a splendid record. The Citizens' State bank has deposits aggregating $111,000, and the First National $350,000.

The new school house is a beauty. It is three stories high, fireproof, and in every particular is modern. There are nine large recitation and school rooms, thoroughly ventilated, besides other rooms for the superintendent, library and janitor. Eight teachers are employed. It is one of the schools which has been designated as a normal training school. About $5,000 is paid out annually to the teachers.

Jewell City has a flouring mill. It will bear inspection, too. It is neat and clean outside and interior as well.

In a business point of view Jewell City will not take a back seat for any town. Her merchants are doing business in good brick houses, no fire traps imbed with that religious fervor, the higher ideals in life and promptly discontinuing all those things which are degrading in influence.

Almost all of the business men and a large majority of the clerks own their own homes and take pride in keeping them well painted and in good repair.

The sentiment of the people is almost universally emphatic in the interest of education and religion as the five churches and their commodious parsonages, the large and elegant well equipped school houses, testify.

The town has never tolerated a saloon.

In its earliest history long before the prohibitory amendment was adopted, a saloon was opened for business and almost as promptly it was put out of business. Jointists have been prosecuted, fined and imprisoned. Hence Jewell City lays claim to being one of the nearest, most substantial and best towns in the wide world. And as our citizen who has been privileged to witness almost 40 years of its growth states: "Best place on earth, nearest to Heaven." Surrounded by a magnificent productive country and inhabited by the very highest type of citizenship, Jewell City will continue to prosper.

Has Population of 1,200.

Jewell City has a population close to 1,200 inhabitants. It has five churches aggregating a total value of $45,000, and the one and a half ministers is about $4,200 annually.

This is a grand showing when it is remembered that the first public gathering in the town was on the 4th day of July, 1871, when there were but a few settlers, and soldiers present.

It is historical of this gathering that the first public prayer in Jewell City was offered up at this gathering by John C. Postlethwaite, who yet resides here.

Among the old pioneers who came here and settled in the years of 1870 and 1871 there are Geo. B. Crandall, W. C. McClung, J. C. Postlethwaite, James Kelsey, sr., J. M. Hutchinson, Dr. O. W. Hughes, W. Berry, H. C. White, Wm. Edwards, F. Wallace, O. A. Seaton and others. Little did these old pioneers, many of them representative business men, realize then that such a future was in store for Jewell City as now exists here.

He has witnessed a more friendly progressive and unanimous sentiment for everything good than has been known in Jewell City for many years.

Jewell City is growing rapidly. In public building enterprises Jewell City this year has outstripped any year in her history. The improvements will aggregate about $150,000.
